YOUR HEALTHCARE TEAM

Surgical Oncologist

The Surgical Oncologist is a physician specially trained in the treatment of cancer using surgery, whose role is to review your diagnostic information and to decide what surgical approach to remove cancer from your body is recommended.

Medical Oncologist

The Medical Oncologist is a physician trained in the medicinal treatment of cancer, who manages treatment with chemotherapy, anti-hormone therapy and antibody therapy.

Radiation Oncologist

The Radiation Oncologist is a physician specially trained in the treatment of cancer with radiation. A specially trained radiation oncology registered nurse works with the you, the radiation oncologist and radiation therapist through this process.

Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeon

A physician specially trained in plastic and reconstructive surgical procedures. The plastic surgeon will work with your breast surgeon and you to determine the most appropriate reconstructive options.

Breast Cancer Nurse Navigator/Lay Navigator

Breast cancer nurse navigators and patient lay navigators are members of your team who have specialized training in breast cancer. They serve as care coordinators assisting with the psychological, social and educational needs of the patient to develop an individualized education plan, coordinate community resources, and provide support where needed.

Advanced Practice Providers

Medical professionals who have advanced degrees, training and certifications, including nurse practitioners, clinical nurse specialists and physician assistants.

Certified Oncology Nurse

Certified oncology nurses have completed a specialized course of study which signifies they have the knowledge to competently care for patients with cancer. Nurses administer chemotherapy and other medicines, answer questions about your chemotherapy treatment, and help your doctor monitor your progress during and after surgery or radiation.

Research Nurse

Research nurses are trained to assist patients in understanding the latest clinical trials and available research.

Medical Assistant

Medical assistants work in Compass Oncology clinics and are trained to assist physicians in your care.

Medical Laboratory Technician

The laboratories at Compass Oncology are staffed with MLTs who perform routine tests in the medical laboratory such as blood and urine tests to provide data for use in your care.

Patient Care Coordinator

Patient care coordinators are liaisons between patients and their healthcare providers to ensure that patients receive the care they need and that they understand their medical condition, medications, and other instructions.

Genetic Risk Evaluation & Testing Program (GREAT)

Provides genetic risk evaluation and guidance about cancer detection and prevention.

Survivorship Program

The Compass Survivorship program begins early in treatment, providing education and support to help you improve your health throughout your treatment journey and during your life after cancer.
